✓ ROCK OF AGES. ✓

The Granite Quarries of Stone Mountain, near Atlanta, Ga.

✓ Produced by the Ford Motor Company, Detroit, Michigan.

Released thru Goldwyn.
-----

These were mountains when Adam was a boy.

But the hardest found was this one---STONE MOUNTAIN.

It is all granite and although thousands of tons have been removed, there is not a dent visible in the surface a short distance off.

Only two cars ever climbed Stone Mountain. Here is one of the cars doing it-----

Stone Mountain is a mammoth rock of granite, surrounded by----

Cutting up a granite mountain is a job that will keep many future generations busy.

A hard nut to crack.

These blocks will become a boulevard bye and bye.

The fellow who stole third with the bases full helped make granite famous.

This very block may some day be part of your favorite public building.

Why pay $1 a minute for an aeroplane ride?

After being rescued from the mountain the stones are carefully sheltered.

"Saw granite and say nothing" would be a better way of putting it, insuring a longer spell of quiet.

Releasing the dust of ages.

Millions of slabs like this still remain in Stone Mountain.

Mr. Samson made everlasting history by pushing two pillars like this one apart.

"Here lies----".

Looks like the marbles Goliath played with when a boy.

Stones are first "doped".

And then they are polished.

And so, sooner or later the granite from this mountain will furnish the country with temples devoted to education, art, religion, finance and industry.
